1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

2. Statutory Requirements

As an independent school we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

Further, we follow guidance set out by Keeping Children Safe in Education, 2022 and The Equality Act, 2010.

We do not have to follow the National Curriculum but we are expected to offer all pupils a curriculum that is similar to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science which would include the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum. We follow the DfE's Statutory Guidance on RSE.

At Hampstead Hill School we teach RSE as set out in this policy. The delivery of RSE content is made accessible to all pupils, including those with SEND.

3. Policy Development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a member of staff or working group pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to attend a meeting about the policy
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

4. Roles and Responsibilities

4.1 The Directors

The Directors will approve the RSE policy and hold the Headteacher to account for its implementation.

4.2 The Headteacher

The Headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory components of RSE.

4.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the Headteacher. Teachers and or Teaching Assistants are responsible for teaching RSE.

4.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

5. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity. RSE involves a combination of sharing information and exploring issues and values. RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity. At Hampstead Hill School, we will not teach any sex education.

6. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

7. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. All teachers are required to practice political and religious impartiality in teaching.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Being safe

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of pupils based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some pupils may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after pupils or young carers).

8. Assessment

Assessment plays a key role in effective RSE teaching and learning. Assessment is a process through which judgements are made about an individual's learning and development. Further, Hampstead Hill School use assessment to inform interventions. Pupils who are not meeting the lesson objectives or are identified as a concern to the teachers are referred to the Pastoral Committee and the school's Emotional Literacy Support Assistant.

The differing form of assessment within PSHE lessons are:

1. KWL Grids
2. Mind Maps
3. Marking and feedback

9. Consultation with Stakeholders

To ensure the School's RSE curriculum meets the needs of all stakeholders, routine consultation is completed. Further, the reviews aim to ensure that the teaching and learning can respond to local community concerns.

Consultation with Parents

Parents are consulted via the following channels:

- Focus groups (October)
- Parent survey (March)
- PSHE workshop (May)

Consultation with Pupils

pupils are consulted via the following channels:

- Within PSHE and P4C discussions
- Assemblies
- Worry boxes

Consultation with Staff

- Weekly PSHE meetings
- Staff CPD

10. Parents' Right to Withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education. Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE. However, please note, due to the age and key stage of our children, Hampstead Hill School will not be delivering any form of sex education.

11. Training

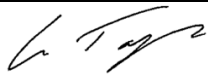

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar. The Headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as social workers for training to staff teaching RSE.

12. Monitoring Arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by Stella Martinelli, Head of Year 2 and PSHE Co-ordinator, through learning walks. Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems. This policy will be reviewed annually by Stella Martinelli. At every review, the policy will be approved by Headteacher and the Nominated Safeguarding Director.
